

INT. NEWS STUDIO-MORNING

NEWSCASTER 1 sits on exercise ball in studio while title sequence plays.

NEWSCASTER 1

Hello, today we have a very special guest. He has visited countries around the world and increased awareness of the nutritional value of the pickled peppers. Please help me welcome Mr. Peter Piper to the studio

PETER PIPER enters studio.

PETER PIPER

Thank you I'm so happy to be here this morning.

NEWSCASTER 1

Last week we asked our viewers to send in questions for Mr. Piper. Here's the first question from Joey in San Diego. Do you ever get tired of eating pickled peppers?

PETER PIPER

No, but I make sure I vary my diet often, so I can continue doing what I do.

NEWSCASTER 1

Can you tell us more about what you do?

PETER PIPER

Of course. I pick pickled peppers for a living I also teach about the nutritional value and their impact on society.

NEWSCASTER 1

I know we all want to know the answer to this question from Maddie in Denver. Do you have a special someone in your life who accompanies you on your travels?

PETER PIPER

You should all know by now that my peppers mean the world to me.

NEWSCASTER 1

I don't think that means what you think it means.

(Laughter)

Ok, let's skip to the next question. Wendell from Phoenix asks where you pick your best pickled peppers.

PETER PIPER

Well my favorite place to pick them is in the tall grasses of the Serengeti.

NEWSCASTER 1

In fact, for your viewing pleasure, we followed Mr. Piper on his travels through the Serengeti to watch him pick his peppers.

CUT TO SERENGETI

EXT. AFRICAN SERENGETI-AFTERNOON

NEWSCASTER 2 and PETER PIPER enter the scene with NEWSCASTER 2
following PETER PIPER.

NEWSCASTER 2

And here we watch the mighty Peter Piper pick his famous pickled peppers. Such talent and skill goes into picking the perfect pickled peppers.

PETER PIPER

(from a distance)

It's really not that special.

NEWSCASTER 2

Oh, but he's so modest!

PETER PIPER picks up a jar of pickled peppers attached to a fake vine.

PETER PIPER

OMG! These are my favorites!

NEWSCASTER 2

Wait, Wait. What's happening?!

PETER PIPER

I just found my all time favorite pickled peppers.

PETER PIPER cracks open the pepper jar and smells it.

PETER PIPER

Ahhhhhhh, yummm.

NEWSCASTER 2

Could I, maybe, have a sample?

PETER PIPER

Sure! Of course! Here you go.

NEWSCASTER 2 Oooh, this is good. Now back to you at the studio.

CUT TO STUDIO

INT. NEWS STUDIO-MORNING

NEWSCASTER 1 and PETER PIPER are sitting on exercise/chair.

NEWSCASTER 1
Thanks for that interesting clip. Let's give a big round of applause for Mr.
Piper. Thanks for watching and please join us next time on Bandwagon. You can send us your letters at 1001 Thought Train Road, Bajillion, New Mexico.

CUT TO BLACK SCREEN/AFTER STORY